

Directions

A Little Something White Bridal Couture is located in the heart of Darien, Connecticut at 1292 Boston Post Road. The boutique is on the second floor of the building and can be accessed either by staircase or elevator.

By Car

From I-95 North, take Exit 11. Stay to the right at the end of the ramp and we are located directly across the street at the end of the ramp.

From I-95 South, take Exit 11. Turn left at the end of the ramp. After going under the highway, we are the first building on the left.

By Train

A Little Something White Bridal Couture is located ½ mile from the Darien train station (Metronorth's New Haven Line). This means it takes only 1 hour to get to the boutique from Grand Central Station. For brides coming from further away, it is less than 10 minutes from Stamford's Amtrak station. If you need transportation to and from either train station, please call us at the boutique.
